

COUNTRY OWES DEBT OF GRATITUDE, GARFIELD SAYS, TO INSURGENTS

Former Secretary of Interior Claims They Have Advanced the Cause of Government for All the People As Against Special Interests During Session of Congress Just Closed.

(Special from United Press.)
Cleveland, June 27.—Former Secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield, just returned from New York where he and ex-Forestier Gifford Pinchot have visited with Colonel Roosevelt, today submitted to an interview on the work in this session of the Congress and the so-called insurgent Republicans in Congress.
"How has the cause of conservation fared at the hands of Congress?" he was asked. "The provision separating the coal from the surface is admirable, being exactly what we have fought for the past several years. The withdrawal bill is not in as good shape as when it left the Senate Committee. We did not think that the bill is necessary, believing that the Executive has full power to protect the public domain. But as President Taft wanted such a bill it was well enough to have it. The bill by Mr. Ballinger was wholly inadequate and did not meet the situation. The bill offered by the National Conservation Association as a substitute was adopted by the committee.
"The bill as finally passed as it deals with withdrawals follows the administration bill but there has been injected into it a clause permitting mining claims to be taken on water power sites. This provision will be a constant menace in that without the closest vigilance advantage can be taken of this provision of the law by special interests.
"The good in the bill was put in by the real friends of the conservation inside and outside of Congress. If they had not made the fight against the original administration bill great injury to conservation would have resulted and the public domain would have been opened to the land grabber."

"What is your opinion of the railroad bill as finally passed?"
"The rate bill as passed did not at all meet the need of the country. It ought not to have been passed in its original form. The country owes a debt of gratitude to such men as Cummins, Clapp, Doliver, LaFollette, Beveridge and those who, with them, compelled the amendment of the original bill and inserted in it clauses that are of direct benefit to the people of the country.
"The cause of self-government or government for all of us rather than for a few special interests has undoubtedly been advanced during this session and the insurgents, so-called, in both the House and the Senate are the ones to whom all the credit belongs."
"What effect will the insurgency of these men have on the Republican party and upon their own standing as party men?"
"These men have been and still are Republicans. They cannot be driven out of the party because they stand for and fight for true Republican government."
"Is there danger that this insurgency business will develop a sectional spirit in the party and in the nation?"
"By no means. On the contrary it has united men of New England, like Gardner, with the men of the middle west like Madison, and they have found a common interest with Polkender, the insurgent of the far northwest. California can certainly join Wisconsin in the insurgency for no matter how varied the forms it may take it is, in the last analysis, merely a straight-out fight against the rule of the party and the rule of the nation by special interests."

FOR FORGERY OF $390,000 TOWN TREASURER LOMBARD GETS 15 YEARS IN PRISON

(Special from United Press.)
Boston, June 27.—John B. Lombard, former treasurer of the town of Framingham, was today sentenced by Judge William B. Stevens in the superior court at East Cambridge to not more than 15 and not less than 10 years in state prison, the first day to be in solitary confinement and the remainder at hard labor.
On Friday last Lombard pleaded guilty to seven counts charging him with forging the names of the selectmen of Framingham to notes aggregating $390,000. In passing sentence Judge Stevens said that for the sake of the public welfare he felt he must impose a sentence commensurate with the crime. The prisoner, who is 60 years of age, was greatly affected by the sentence and the services of two ministers were required to assist him from the courtroom.

THREE BANDITS HOLD UP TRAIN RIFLE EXPRESS CAR SAFES AND ASSAULT SLEEPING PASSENGERS

(Special from United Press.)
Salt Lake, Utah, June 27.—After rifling the safes in the express car and finding no loot, three armed train robbers early today held up Oregon Short line train No. 15 between Ogden and Harrison, went through the Pullman coaches and beat the sleeping passengers who didn't have valuables. After getting a small amount of booty the robbers leaped from the train and disappeared in the darkness.
Sheriff Wilson and a number of deputies in automobiles are now in pursuit.
When they boarded the train at 1 a. m., the three bandits went at once to the express car where they compelled the messenger, at the point of revolver to turn over his keys. The safes were opened but nothing of value was found and after beating the messenger, the three men started back through the train, through the Pullman coach. Berth by berth they went through the car, systematically beating the sleeping passengers with the butts of their revolvers.

Three men who offered resistance were knocked insensible and badly cut. Several women were wearing earrings and the robbers pulled them out violently, badly lacerating the ears of the women. The train brakeman stationed there saw them coming and fled. The robbers fired at him. They jumped off the train and fled.

NOT TRANSFER FOR COONEY FAIRFIELD OIL COLONY BORN OF WEDDING TRIP

Application of Mathias Ocko Granted by Commissioners

The County Commissioners have refused the application for the transfer of the license of Daniel Cooney, from 24 Italian street to Bishop and Connecticut avenues, the applicant being notified of the decision this morning. The transfer was objected to by the Whitman Manufacturing Co., Henkels Laco Co., American Lacquer Co., E. H. H. Smith Silver Co., and many other manufacturers in that locality who object to the transfer on the ground that it was a detriment to their interests.
The Commissioners granted the application of Mathias Ocko for a change of his license from Cannon street to Arctic and Fenbush streets. The remonstrance against the application of Antonio Franzia for a transfer of the license at 35 South avenue to 410 East Main at 35th street. The remonstrants say that the proposed saloon is unsuitable as it is on the opposite corner to the Point-Union Mission.
A remonstrance was also filed today against the application of Abraham Kraut for the transfer of the license in the name of Martin Schreiber at Stillman and Fenbush streets. The remonstrance is brought on three grounds, unsuitability of applicant, unsuitability of place, and because there are already too many saloons in the neighborhood. Kraut is the owner of the building in which the saloon is now located.
PERSONAL MENTION.
Mr. Lawrence Benz, the druggist of Wood avenue, is now sporting a new Excelsior motorcycle.

Some Reminiscences of Visits of Richest Man in the World to Bridgeport

The visit of John D. Rockefeller to Dr. DeVos, farmer, at the home of the latter in this city, Saturday, brought recollection of two other visits of Mr. Rockefeller to Bridgeport. The first was on the occasion of his wedding trip when he passed through to Fairfield, to become the guest of his father-in-law, O. G. Jennings, whose mansion at the top of Greenfield Hill, overlooks the country for miles around.
At this time many Fairfield people became interested in Standard oil, which had not yet become an "octopus," and the beginning of the Standard Oil colony in the ancient revolutionary town dates back to this honeymoon.
The second visit made by the richest man in the world, although he was not at the time so, was about 40 years ago. He had just completed his home in Cleveland, and came to this city to see the furniture for it, of Hubbell & Curtis.
During his more recent visit Mr. Rockefeller said that in his home in Tarrytown he had some of the furniture that he bought in Bridgeport at the time referred to.
It appears that Dr. Warner and Mr. Rockefeller have beautiful adjoining estates near Augusta, Ga., and that Saturday was not the first occasion upon which the wealthy oil man and the wealthy corset manufacturer have played golf together.

MISSIONARY HELD AS FIREBUG, MORE ARRESTS EXPECTED

Startling Developments in Police Investigation of Mysterious Shooting

Hadad's Alleged Accomplice Held in Bail of $3,000—Is Prominent New Haven Merchant

Ameen Silby, head of the United Syrian Christians Missions of Connecticut, was arraigned in the city court today charged with attempt to commit arson. Silby's arrest in New Haven yesterday is one of several steps taken by the police in their investigation into the mysterious occurrences at the store of Nicholas Smith, a Syrian merchant at 200 Main St.
Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Redden asked that Silby be held in heavy bail when the New Haven merchant was brought before Judge Wilder of the city court today. He outlined a startling plot which he said he expected to prove had been formed between Silby, James Hadad, 19, a Syrian, taken by the police in their investigation into the mysterious occurrences at the store of Nicholas Smith, a Syrian merchant at 200 Main St.
Silby was once in partnership with Nicholas Smith, the two conducting a small dry goods and notion store opposite police headquarters. Business proved slack, the partnership apparently dissolved and Smith moved his effects to the Main street location while Silby went to New Haven.
Early Thursday morning Police Sergeant O'Leary and Patrolman Dooley broke into the Main street store, neighbors calling them in fearing someone was being asphyxiated. They found James Hadad, 19, a Syrian, armed with two costly pistols, a dirk and loaded with ammunition, he tried to shoot the police sergeant, and but for the timely use of a club on his hand by Patrolman Dooley he might have succeeded. Hadad missed fire and the third misdirected by the policeman's club, went through the floor.
Hadad claimed he had come here to visit Nicholas Smith, who had been found spilling about the place when the police investigated, and the girl left in charge by Smith, had no knowledge of the contents, which the police secured before they allowed it to be mailed. Prosecutor Redden issued a warrant, charging Ameen with attempted arson.

THESE STREETS GET BATH OF OIL

Gangs of men under the direction of Director Kenny of the Public Works department are engaged today in oiling North Main street from North avenue to the end of the trolley line; Washington avenue from trolley street to Park avenue and Clinton avenue from Fairfield avenue to North avenue were oiled, last week. The director said today that he would oil Fairfield avenue and Connecticut avenue next. After this he will consider the oiling of such streets as the appropriation will permit.

McKenna Makes More Block Map Appointees

City Engineer McKenna announced today the names of three of the members of the outside surveying gang block maps. James F. Hall, a graduate of Sheffield Scientific school, 1885, will be the surveyor of the party. John Downey, formerly clerk with the Crane Valve Co., and Joseph Curley, an engineering student at Villa Nova college, will be the rod and chain men.

Burned to Death Pinned in Wreckage Of Overturned Auto

St. Louis, June 27.—Pinned in the wreckage of his overturned auto Robert Abel, 24, was burned to death while two of his friends who had been riding in the car with him lay on the roadside, so seriously injured they could not render assistance. A passer-by endeavored to save Abel but the heat from the flaming car drove him back.

ELKS GO TO SPECIAL BRIDGEPORT TO DETROIT LEAVES SUNDAY JULY 9

Magnificent Itinerary Planned For Elks and Their Friends at Very Low Cost

Special Pullman Vestibuled Train Chartered by Bridgeport Lodge No. 36 for Occasion—Details of One of Finest Tours Ever Planned

Bridgeport lodge of Elks are rapidly completing plans for the special Pullman vestibuled train which they will run from Bridgeport to Detroit and return via Niagara Falls and the Thousand Islands on the occasion of the reunion of the Elks' Grand Lodge at Detroit the week of July 10. The forthcoming session of the Grand Lodge promises to be the most notable in the history of Elklodges. Detroit, which is acknowledged to be one of the foremost and most beautiful of American municipalities, has already spent close to $300,000 to prepare for the welcome of the visiting Antlers. Every possible hospitality is to be extended to the strangers. As is well known, Detroit is the home of more automobile industries than any other city on this continent. Thousands of automobiles of all makes are to be placed at the convenience of the Elks and their friends.
The program for the week includes besides the monster parade in which will appear the finest specimens of the noblest members of the deer family, hundreds of curious groups representing phases of life in all parts of America, the Philippines and Porto Rico. The order of Elks being a purely American institution, only those who swear allegiance to its flag are eligible to membership, so there will be present in the parade and Detroit are only the citizens of the United States who are members of the order, but those of the island possessions of Uncle Sam.
Excursions, band concerts in which thousands of musicians will participate, automobile races for the ladies and other equally as entertaining diversions too numerous to mention, will be strongly featured during the week. The itinerary of Bridgeport lodge is generally considered one of the most complete offered by any lodge in New England. Convenience considered, the price is lower than any of the rest.
In order to provide automobile and hotel accommodations, it is necessary for the local committee to be in possession of the names of those who are to comprise the Bridgeport party on or before July 1.
The death of Sheriff Doolan necessitated a change in the committee, and that lamented and honored Elk has been succeeded as treasurer by Charles H. Hinman, a veteran of the Bridgeport lodge, who is authorized to receive the names and deposits of all Elks and their friends who intend to make the trip.
The complete details of the itinerary of Bridgeport lodge will be found below. Any further assistance may be obtained from any member of the committee or the secretary of Bridgeport lodge at the lodge-rooms in State street.
The Detroit committee of Bridgeport Lodge, No. 36, B. P. O. Elks, comprises: Joseph C. Fry, chairman; John A. Shea, secretary; Charles H. Hinman, treasurer; George T. McCarthy, William P. Lee, John Hots, William L. Gould, P. J. Madigan, W. R. Abercrombie, T. J. Murphy, C. A. Ryder, Harry Quinn, and James L. McGovern, Past Exalted Ruler.

GREECE MUST MAKE APOLOGY OR TURKS WILL DECLARE WAR

(Special from United Press.)
Constantinople, June 27.—Unless Greece makes an apology before tonight and offers indemnity for the recent looting of the Roumanian mail boat at the Piraeuse, preparations will be made for an immediate Turkish movement against Greece. The war department has given orders for the entire army to be placed in readiness. The grand vizier has warned the Greek minister that the Grecian activity along the frontier must cease at once or it would be considered a sufficient provocation for declaring war.
Roumania is acting in concert with Turkey and has warned Greece that unless a complete statement of the looting of the mail boat is forthcoming today she will attempt reprisals. It is believed here that Turkey has gone too far to recede, and that if Greece does not make the demanded amends Turkey will surely go to war.

WILTON AROUSED OVER ASSAULT ON AGED WOMAN

(Special from United Press.)
Norwalk, June 27.—All Wilton is wrought up over the attempt made by John Schaeffer, aged 19, a farmhand of that place, to commit an indecent assault upon Mrs. Daniel Hogan, who is 70 years old. The assault was made at Mrs. Hogan's home this morning after Mr. Hogan had gone to his work. Mrs. Hogan is a highly estimable resident of Wilton and her friends are worked up over the affair.

ABANDONED BABE STORY TOLD IN NEW HAVEN COURT

(Special from United Press.)
New Haven, June 27.—The police believe today that they have heard the last word in the miserable story of the abandonment of the three weeks old infant which was found in a state room of the steamer Richard Peck on its arrival in New York last Thursday. In court today after the trial had received from the mother of the child, Matilda Asmus. According to her narrative an enemy had compelled Angelo Nanone, the alleged father of the abandoned babe, to make money payment for her disgrace. The family then decided to place the infant in some New York institution and Vera Moran, one of the prisoners, was commissioned to take the child to New York. Arthur Asmus, father of Matilda, accompanied the Moran woman to the Peck, so the story goes, purchased her ticket and returned to his home. It seems that the Moran woman got frightened and abandoned the infant before the boat left the dock in New Haven.
The police of New York are wondering what disposition to make of the baby.

Father Bill Daly In Court for Choking Wife and Pulling Her Nose

(Special from United Press.)
New York, June 27.—"Father Bill" Daly, trainer and horseman, was summoned to the Coney Island police court today by his wife who appeared in court swathed in bandages. She charges that Daly threw a pot of hot coffee on her, choked her and pulled her nose at their Sheephead Bay home when she prevented one of their sons from striking one of the daughters.
Daly, who denied the charge, was held in $1,500 bail.
